

Clinical Observation Sessions with Jayne Lehmann

Quality diabetes care requires the seamless integration of clinical, education, counselling, behaviour support, goal setting and empowerment skills. Why not learn from an expert by sitting-in on one of Jayne Lehmann's clinical sessions at one of her clinics in Brighton, Clovelly Park and Malvern in South Australia? There's nothing like seeing an experienced clinician at work to fast track the consolidation of knowledge into practice with your own clients with diabetes!

Jayne Lehmann is a Registered Nurse and Credentialed Diabetes Educator with over thirty years of clinical experience in the management and education of people with type 1 diabetes, type 2 diabetes and gestational diabetes in children, adolescents, adults and women during pregnancy. Jayne has a special interest in the care of people with disability, providing an additional element to the experience.

Who will benefit from this opportunity?

- Students enrolled in a current health-related course
- Students in the Flinders University of South Australia post graduate Diabetes Management and Education course
- Health professionals wanting to extend their diabetes care and education skills.

What does a clinical observation session with Jayne Lehmann include?

1. Pre-visit:

- Fee paid for the experience
- Information about the experience forwarded to the participant
- Participant completes and returns the form including goals to achieve by attending the session
- Clinic session date and time negotiated

2. The Visit: Attendance at the clinical observation session

- Introduction to the clinic/staff and outline of the individuals attending the session
- Discuss individuals' goals
- Check with each client that they are happy for the person to sit in on their session
- Observation of each client appointment in the session
- Discussion between clients of the strategies and approaches utilised
- Discussion at the end of the session about the achievement of the individual's goals
- Discuss completion of the visit template

3. Post Visit

- Participant completes the template and forward to Jayne for review
- Jayne returns with her comments and recommendations for other experiences, study that would help to further the individual's skills
- This concludes the observation visit.

How much does it cost?

$250 plus GST ($275) to attend 1 Clinical Observation Session as outlined above.

As a health professional or student, this is a tax deductible expense.

How do I arrange a Clinical Observation Session?

Complete the Application for a Clinical Observation Session form and send to Jayne Lehmann via jayne@edhealth.com.au. Once you receive notification that the visit is possible, the date, time and address of the clinic will be forwarded to you. The experience fee is paid prior to attending the clinic.